

Forgiving is freedom

A Journal of Health Psychology study of 148 people found that in those with a forgiving nature, the link between stress and illness nearly disappeared. This is what the Jain festival of Paryushan has emphasised for centuries. It is observed for eight days, reminding us that forgiveness is a way to release the burdens that weigh on the heart. We come closer to our true nature through restraint, reflection and prayer.

Unless we forgive, hurt lingers, and impressions carry forward. Most of the hurt we feel begins with misunderstandings. But when emotional residue is cleared, even if the mind recalls, we have risen above it. A forgiving heart is free, a grateful heart is content, whereas a vengeful heart is restless.

Meditation, cleaning and prayer support this inner change. With regular practice, the heart becomes simple and pure, filled with humility and sincerity. A heart soaked in gratitude towards God no longer needs to forgive, for it holds no grudges. In such a heart, there is no pride to be wounded.

THE SPEAKING TREE

Mahavir taught that forgiveness is the highest virtue and the path to liberation. Paryushan allows us to walk that same path in our lives. Forgiveness frees us, but love unites us. It lets the heart become a channel of peace for the world.

[Practice Exercise]

- Red/blue coloring of words in the sentence indicates subject verb relationship; where 'red' denotes 'subject' and 'blue' denotes 'verb'.

Vocabulary

1. Forgiving (adjective) – lenient, compassionate, merciful, magnanimous, tolerant क्षमाशील
2. Emphasise (verb) – stress, underline, highlight, underscore, accentuate रेखांकित करना
3. Century (noun) – hundred years, centennial, centenary period, hundred-year span, era शताब्दी
4. Forgiveness (noun) – pardon, absolution, mercy, clemency, condonation क्षमा
5. Weigh on (phrasal verb) – burden, trouble, press on, preoccupy, oppress मन पर बोझ होना
6. Restraint (noun) – self-control, moderation, discipline, temperance, inhibition संयम
7. Reflection (noun) – contemplation, introspection, meditation, pondering, rumination मनन
8. Linger (verb) – persist, remain, hang on, stay, endure टिका रहना
9. Impression (noun) – imprint, mark, effect, impact, trace छाप
10. Residue (noun) – remnant, remainder, leftover, dregs, trace अवशेष
11. Grateful (adjective) – thankful, appreciative, obliged, indebted, beholden कृतज्ञ
12. Content (adjective) – satisfied, at peace, fulfilled, serene, easy संतुष्ट
13. Vengeful (adjective) – vindictive, retaliatory, spiteful, revengeful, rancorous प्रतिशोधी
14. Restless (adjective) – agitated, uneasy, unsettled, anxious, fidgety बेचैन
15. Meditation (noun) – mindfulness, contemplation, dhyana, reflection, prayerful focus ध्यान
16. Humility (noun) – modesty, meekness, unpretentiousness, humbleness, self-effacement विनम्रता
17. Sincerity (noun) – genuineness, earnestness, honesty, wholeheartedness, candour ईमानदारी
18. Soak (verb) – saturate, imbue, suffuse, bathe, permeate भिगोना
19. Gratitude (noun) – thankfulness, appreciation, gratefulness, indebtedness, recognition कृतज्ञता
20. Grudge (noun) – resentment, ill will, rancour, spite, grievance रंजिश

21. Wound (verb) – hurt, injure, scar, maim, gash आहत करना

22. Liberation (noun) – freedom,
emancipation, release, deliverance,
moksha मुक्ति

23. Unite (verb) – bring together, join, unify,
reconcile, bond एकजुट करना

24. Let (verb) – allow, permit, enable, facilitate, grant अनुमति देना

@mocks_wallah

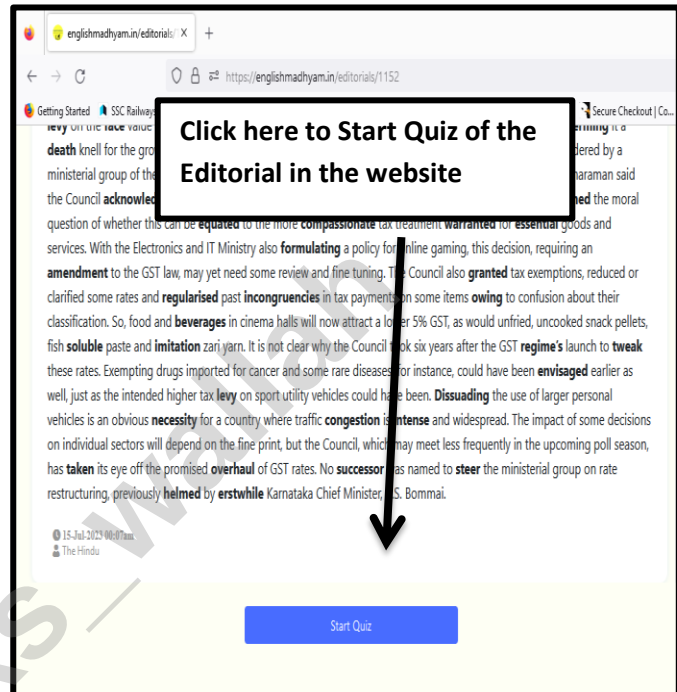

Summary of the Editorial

1. A Journal of Health Psychology study showed that forgiveness reduces the link between stress and illness.
2. The Jain festival of Paryushan, observed for eight days, emphasises the practice of forgiveness.
3. Forgiveness helps in releasing emotional burdens and lightening the heart.
4. True nature is realised through restraint, reflection, and prayer.
5. Without forgiveness, hurt lingers and negative impressions carry forward.
6. Many emotional wounds begin with misunderstandings.
7. Forgiving allows us to rise above emotional residue, even if memories remain.
8. A forgiving heart brings freedom; a grateful heart brings contentment; a vengeful heart remains restless.
9. Practices like meditation, self-cleaning, and prayer nurture inner change.
10. A heart filled with gratitude, humility, and sincerity holds no grudges and cannot be wounded by pride.
11. Mahavir taught forgiveness as the highest virtue and the path to liberation.
12. Forgiveness frees individuals, while love unites humanity, making the heart a channel of peace.

Practice Exercise: SSC Pattern Based

Click here to Start Quiz in the App

Click here to download App

Click here to visit website

